Robart

Robart develops artificial intelligence and navigation that makes home robots smarter, with its core product being Robart's Navigation Technology. Customers are large manufacturers of household robots, such as Hoover USA, that incorporate the Robart Navigation Technology into their products. Robart, founded in 2009, has filed more than 33 patents and is continuously expanding. It currently employs an international team of 55 employees, mostly engineers for electronics and software.
